

Foley

In the Headlines

May, 23, 2006

5/23/2006

JEFF COLLINS OPENING KEYNOTE SPEAKER AT UPCOMING NACVA CONFERENCE
Jeff Collins Opening Keynote Speaker at Upcoming NACVA Conference

Jeff Collins, a Foley & Lardner partner and member of the firm's White Collar Defense & Corporate Compliance Practice Group, will be the opening keynote speaker at the upcoming 13th Annual Consultants Conference of the National Association of Certified Valuation Analysts (NACVA).

Scheduled for Thursday, June 1, at the Hyatt Regency Embarcadero in San Francisco, Jeff's keynote address will be "The Best Defense Is a Good Offense." He will highlight internal policies and procedures companies need to have in place to combat criminal conduct and to earn credit from the government. His address will discuss development of compliance programs that will effectively detect and deter misconduct and how to respond appropriately if it does occur, from the initial stages to corrective action and government disclosure.